Somerset Jury Nearly Complete By Noon Today

Ten Of Twelve Jurors To Hear Sanute Case Have Been Accepted

TWO EXTRA JURORS
TO BE ELIMINATED

(International News Service)
SOMERSET, Pa., March 2—Ten of the 12 jurors who will decide the fate of State Trooper Anthony Sanute, second of the defendants to stand trial in Fayette county's sensational alleged "third degree" case, were seated before noon today.

Juror No. 10 was Wilmer Cough-nor, 24, a farmer, of Addison township. Earlier Arthur P. Brown, 26, a clerk of Salisbury township was accepted as the ninth juror.

By agreement of both prosecution and defense counsel, supreme court justice George W. Maxey, specially presiding, ruled only 12 jurors instead of 14 would be drawn. An extra pair served as alternates in the first trial in case illness should overtake one of the regular jurors.

Looks Like Healthy Jury
At the time of the ruling, Judge
Maxey said:

"It looks like a pretty healthy jury."

Before Brown was accepted, three salesmen were excused when they objected to the death penalty. Two were challenged by the commonwealth and Daniel A. Landis, 68, a farmer, from Stony Creek township, was challenged by the defense because he is a relative of Bert Landis, a jury constable.

PA NEW OBSERVES

After a review of weather conditions during March of last year, Pa
New is convinced there is little to the old supposition that if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb. It was very lamblike at the beginning of March last year, and more so at the end, the temperature rising to 75 degrees on the last day of the month.

Sit-down strikes seemingly can be started on the least provocation these days, and the idea has even spread to the youngsters. Last evening, a group of children, numbering about 30 went to the former home of James Ryhal, of Moore avenue, intending to serenade him and his bride who were married on January 18. They were told that the young couple had gone to housekeeping on the East Side, but the children were not satisfied, and went on in front of the home and sat down, informing the people in the neighborhood they were on a sit-down strike. Later in the evening, however, the bed-time hour approached and the children became chilly sitting about on the sidewalk, so they gave up their strike.

While the straw hat season is way off as far as Pa New is concerned, the writer spotted a young man walking briskly along East Lutton street, sporting a white topper, today.

Downie Insistent On Moving W. P. A. To Beaver County

At noon today the situation insofar as the removal of the WPA district headquarters to Beaver county had not changed from yesterday although there was a possibility that some solution might be worked out.
Briefly the situation is this:

The U. S. treasury department has ordered the WPA to vacate the old postoffice building by April 1st, in order that the Free Public Library can have possession.

J. Vale Downie, district director insists that the headquarters be moved to Beaver county unless a suitable building is found here.

The county commissioners are paying $1000 per year rent for the old knitting mill on South Mill street which is partially used by the State Emergency Relief Board.

There is ample room in this building for the WPA according to J. W.
Moorhead, executive secretary of the SERB, there being three floors, two of which are entirely vacant now.

The Lawrence school has been offered for a WPA headquarters but this is said to be inadequate by Mr.
Downie.

Can Delay Moving
The project for the remodeling of the old postoffice for a library can not possibly be started before July 1, according to Mr. Downie. Attorney William J. Caldwell, one of the trustees of the library board said to-

Charge Democratic National Committee
Enters Court Battle

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

(International News Service) Staff

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Democratic leaders of the contest against President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the Supreme Court were irritated today by reported efforts of the Democratic National committee to win support for the judicial reform.

Both Liberal and Conservative Democrats in the opposition camp-like Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, and Glass (D) of Virginia—declared the contest should be kept out of party politics. They privately demanded the national committee of their own party keep out of the controversy.

Accuses Democratic Committee
Senator Burke (D) of Nebraska, charged the Democratic national committee with organizing, upon an election basis in behalf of the president's program. Burke said:

"The matter of propaganda is the last question that should be raised by the administration in view of the acts of the Democratic national committee. It is common knowledge the committee is operating on a full campaign basis, trying to whip up support for the president's plan.

Orders have gone out to state and local organizations to be ready to distribute any literature which may be sent them. This is a strange method of handling an issue that affects the fundamentals of our government and so vitally affects our federal judiciary."

The opposition reported new converts in both house and senate. Sen-

Sit-Down Strike

Some 350 Miners In Union-

Mine Underground

EXECUTIVE SAYS
STRIKE "OUTLAW"

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 2.— Supplied with all the comforts of home in their dank underground abode, some 350 miners today kept firm possession of the Jamison mine of the South Union Coal Company by means of a sitdown strike, the first ever recorded in this section.

The men spent a quiet and peaceful night, well fed on bread, roast beef and coffee, and warmly clad in coats and blankets sent down the pit 300 feet or more underground by their solicitous wives.

Demand Union Check-Off
Through their leader, John Hardy, they announced this morning they will not surrender until their demands for a check-off of union fines as well as union dues is granted by the Jamison family which owns and operates the mine. Ralph E. Jamison, sales executive of the company, termed the strike
"outlaw," asserting it had not been authorized by the United Mine Workers of America.

A force of 15 friends of the self-imprisoned miners patrolled the property, warding off all sightseers and protecting the property.

The mine is modern in every respect and although he was considerably irked by the behavior of the men Jamison made it clear he will provide them with every possible comfort. The air fans con-

CHICAGO, March 2.—Five times repeated, Joseph Rappaport died in the electric chair today for the murder of a government informer after a dramatic eleventh hour test with a lie detector in the death cell proclaimed him guilty.

While lawyers and witnesses crowded about Prof. Leonard Keeler and his little lie detector device, with its tiny recording needle, in the tense quiet of the death cell Rappaport made his supreme gamble—and lost.

Prisoner Lied
The twin pens scribbled out their verdict to Rappaport and the audience. The scrawling vertical lines, when read on the recording cylinder stated with finality that Rappaport's denial of guilt was a lie. The machine was closed up and carried out, the witnesses left the death cell, and jailers prepared the prisoner for death.

Two hours later Rappaport was executed in the basement of the Cook county jail for the murder of Max Dent, a government informer and witness in a narcotic case against Rappaport.

Between two jail guards he marched erect to the chair, his eyes shielded from the 125 witnesses by a black cloth tied about his head. The current was turned on at 12:04 a. m. and Rappaport was pronounced dead

Blind Workers Start Strike In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 2.—None-the-less determined despite their physical handicap, 107 sightless workers at the Pittsburgh workshop of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind today began the second day of their sit-down strike for higher wages and better working conditions.

They spent the first night of their sit-down, believed to be the first in the country of its kind, on the bales of straw and piles of old materials which their toil won hands fashion into brooms and baskets and rugs.
Friends supplied them with food and officials of the association, distressed by the strike, provided them with every possible comfort.

Make Demands
Led by Pittsburgh's blind congressman, Matthew A. Dunn, 107 of the workshop's 173 employees went on strike yesterday in response to the tolling of a huge bell. They demanded more wages, paid sick leave of five weeks, paid vacations, of two weeks, paid for holidays, a 35-hour week, abolition of piece work and abolition of a "spy system."

H. R. Latimer, superintendent of the workshop, pointed sadly to a $25,000 deficit and the failure of the legislature to provide more funds.

Charles Scott, blind chairman of the strike committee, said the sit-down was supported by both the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization. It was Scott who climbed unassisted upon a huge bale of straw on the third floor of the building and rang the bell which announced the strike.

There was no disorder, the blind workers agreeing to refrain from sabotage and promising not to disturb the clerical help.

"The only trouble with this strike is that you aren't asking enough," Dunn told the blind employees.

"We are only asking for our legal right, the right of collective bargaining," said Charles McLaughlin, a spokesman for the strike committee. "For the first time in history, we blind have been placed on an equal footing with other labor."

Officials of the company refused to hazard an explanation of the tragedy immediately afterward and Fire Marshal John Monahan said he was unable to explain its origin pending an investigation.

The explosions shattered windows for hundreds of yards in all directions and snapped telephone and light wires nearby.

Girl Strikers
Seize Second
Detroit Store

Battle Between Sit - Down
Strikers And Woolworth
Co. Near Impasse

(International News Service)
DETROIT, March 2.—After pretty sales girls seize a second dime store in the nation's first five-and-10 cent store sitdown strikes, the battle between the big F. W. Woolworth Company and organized labor reached an impasse today.

Strike leader Louis Koenig, of the
A. F. of L., reiterated "We will close every Woolworth Dime store in the country if necessary to see the striking girl workers get a fair deal." He added, however, that any decision for a nationwide walkout of union dime store clerks would be withheld until at least Saturday.

Edward P. Howbert, company attorney, declared:

"We will not bargain as long as strikers remain in the store."

He would not disclose whether the company contemplated court action, nor would he "be any competent after girl clerks seized the second Woolworth store late yesterday."

CARNEGIE-ILLINOIS AND C. I. O. CONFER ON WAGE AGREEMENT

Five Large Independents Announce
Wage Increase For Workers; Nation Is Surprised By Sudden Action; Believe Fear Of Steel Labor Trouble
Will Now Be Eliminated; C. I. O. Acts
For Membership.

(International News Service)
A new era dawned in the nation's steel industry today.

At Pittsburgh, Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, the nation's largest producer, recognized John L.
Lewis's Steel Workers organizing committee and opened negotiations for a wage agreement.

Meanwhile, five large independents announced sweeping wage increases, including a $5 minimum daily wage for labor and the 40-hour week, both heretofore bitterly resisted.

Government Officials Astonished
In Washington, government officials were astonished at the news, their first reaction being relief and thanks for the unexpected and unprecedented developments which may obviate a threatened steel strike.

Developments in steel brought a strong stock market, the feature of which was U. S. Steel common which ran up 75 cents to $115.62 1/2, a new high since 1931.

By recognizing the 40-hour week, the independents placed themselves in position to bid for big government contracts and supply the navy with the steel it so badly needs.

Rumor Contract Near Pittsburgh, March 2.—Unconfirmed reports that within 24 hours
Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation may sign a contract with John L.
Lewis' Steel Workers Organizing committee spread like wildfire through this steel capital today.

The reports gained in momentum as conferences resumed between the corporation, the largest subsidiary of U. S. Steel, and representatives of the S. W. O. C.

On the face it seemed almost unbelievable, but yesterday prospects of the meeting between the corporation and the S. W. O. C. seemed almost as amazing before it actually occurred.

Officials of the S. W. O. C. and of Carnegie-Illinois steadfastly refused to comment.

"Of course, we hope that a contract will result from these conferences; that's why we started them," a spokesman for the S. W. O. C. said.

The S. W. O. C. has demanded the 40-hour week and the $5 a day minimum for common labor and if U. S.

VICTIM WAS SON
OF RICH RANCHER

(International News Service)
BUENOS AIRES, March 2.—Jose Gancedo, a dull-witted tramp, was held in jail under heavy guard today to protect him from possible violence following his confession of the kidnap-murder of two-year-old Eugenio Pereyra Iraola, son of a wealthy rancher.

Gancedo was held at Mar Del
Plata, 30 miles from the vast La Sorpresa ranch from which, according to the confession, he snatched the baby.

Obtain Confession
According to police, the tramp's confession was obtained only after more than three days of continuous day and night grilling, and consisted simply of the words:

"I did it."

These words, scrawled on a small sheet of paper, were followed by a signature.

When the prisoner was taken before a judge for ratification of the confession, it did not appear that he would speak again.

Detectives, however, whispered in his ear, whereupon Gancedo pointed to the confession and nodded his head as a sign that he had written the brief document.

Police stated the prisoner later stated he had not intended to kill the child.

HOSIERY WORKERS STRIKE

Reading Area Strike Affected

Estimate 2,500 Workers In Eight Plants Join Move Today

LEADERS DECLARE STRIKE WILL SPREAD

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., March 2—An estimated 2,500 workers in eight hosiery mills today joined the spreading general strike of hosiery workers in the Reading area.

The first sit-down strikes in the county's industrial history tied up six plants. Pickets closed another mill, while employees of the eight were locked out.

Emil Rice, president of the American Federation of hosiery workers, which called the strike said that about 4,000 additional employees of nine of Berks county's remaining mills will be out by tonight. The union, he recalled, holds contracts with two plants which will not be affected.

Enters Second Day
The strike entered its second day with the strikers reiterating demands which included union recognition, a check-off system, no reduction in wages, and a definite effort on the part of the manufacturers to end the five months old strike at the Berkshire Knitting Mills in suburban Wyomissing.

Employees of the Laurel Hosiery Mill sat down ahead of schedule late yesterday after six mills had closed earlier, while 300 employees of the D. S. and W. Hosiery mill at midnight also refused to go home. All of these activities were conducted without incident.

Herr Holz, a traveler for a German firm of stocking manufacturers, has opened one of the most remarkable collections in the world, a museum of stockings down through the ages. One pair, centuries old, were worn by an Armenian bishop on ceremonial occasions, and there is also a replica of the green stockings which once adorned the calves of Henry VIII.

Steel, the only large producer not to make these concessions as yet, grants them, the $125,000,000 stream of gold represented by wage increases announced yesterday will rise to still greater proportions.

Startled Steel World
Pittsburgh, March 2—A startled steel empire, rocked to its foundations by the unexpected action of "big steel" in granting recognition to John L. Lewis' Steel Workers Organizing committee, watched closely today the outcome of collective bargaining conferences.

In what was regarded as the most epochal day in the history of the American labor movement, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, U. S. Steel's greatest subsidiary, granted recognition to the S. W. O. C., heard its initial demands and set the machinery in motion for a peaceful negotiation of the current labor problem in steel.

The unanticipated conference between Benjamin F. Fairless, president of Carnegie-Illinois, and Philip Murray, chairman of the S. W. O. C., was followed almost immediately by announcement of wage increases by five large independents effective March 16. These National Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Inland Steel and Bethlehem Steel, in general granted labor a 10 cents an hour increase, establishing a 40-hour week and a minimum $5 daily wage.

Adoption of the 40-hour week enables the steel companies to comply with provisions of the Walsh-Healy act, and bid for government business and will probably break the impasse now threatening the navy's building program because of failure of the major steel companies to bid for naval orders.

Now Negotiating
Jones and Laughlin Steel is now negotiating with its employee representatives for similar increases and Carnegie-Illinois has under consideration recommendations for the same boost from its Pittsburgh district council of employee-representatives.

Both Murray and Fairless, the latter head of the industry's largest producer which employs more than 100,000 of the industry's half million workers, declined to reveal what demands were made at the initial meeting. News of the history making conference was kept in deepest secrecy until after the stock exchange had closed for the day yesterday.

It was believed that in addition to recognition as a collective bargaining agency for those employees who are members, the S. W. O. C. made demands similar to those of the employee representatives of Carnegie-Illinois and the other major companies will soon fall in line with pay increases, all signs now pointing to a boost in steel prices of $2 to $6 a ton for the second quarter.

Opening of negotiations in such an aura of peace shocked and then rocked the financial and steel worlds. Officials of at least two other major steel corporations in the district seemed incredulous at first until reassured that Fairless was actually in session with Murray, an international vice-president also of the United Mine Workers of America.

Keeps Strength Secret
Murray declined to reveal the exact strength of the S. W. O. C., but last week it claimed a membership of 165,000 in the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, the union through which it operates, and a total of 200 or more supposedly dues-paying lodges. All that Murray and Fairless would admit were that they had met, "broken the ice," and that the S. W. O. C. had presented its initial requests.

First announcement of the historic meeting was made to the employee representatives of the 18 plants in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown district when they assembled with their plant superintendents for a specially called meeting. The superintendents read the following formal notice:

"Mr. Fairless has had a request from representatives of the steel workers organizing committee to meet with them today for the purpose of collective bargaining for their members. Under the company's announced policy of meeting and bargaining with any person or organization representing any of its workmen, Mr. Fairless is now in conference with them."

In addition to Fairless, the corporation was represented by J. E. Lose, vice-president in charge of operations, and William E. Oberg, manager of operations for the Pittsburgh district.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Murray issued this statement: "At our request, we met today with B. F. Fairless, president of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, for the purpose of presenting our requests for such employees of his company whom we represent, on wages, hours of work, etc. Mr. Fairless agreed to meet with us on this basis. The conference will be continued tomorrow afternoon (Tuesday). We wish to report that a very cooperative spirit existed throughout the meeting."

In addition to Murray, the SWOC was represented by David McDonald, secretary-treasurer; Lee Pressman, general counsel; Clinton S. Golden, Pittsburgh regional director, and Van A. Bittner, Chicago regional director.

Matter For Companies

New York, March 2—Contracts between steel companies and union employees are matters for the companies and their employees individually, the American Iron and Steel Institute announced here today.

In a formal statement the institute made its position clear to the public today. The statement reads: "Relations between the steel companies and their employees are entirely in the hands of the individual companies. The institute neither could nor would take any action in such matters. The institute does not formulate policies for imposition on its members nor act in any way as a supervisory body with respect to individual companies."

The institute disclaimed previous knowledge of the conferences of company officials and representatives of the committee for industrial organization.

CHARGE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE ENTERS COURT BATTLE

and Radcliffe (D) of Maryland, were reported opposed to placing six new justices on the high court. Neither would comment on the reports, announcing they had no statements to make.

Letters 75-1 Against

In the house, Rep. Byrner, (D) of New York, came out against the proposed increase. He reported receiving 5,000 letters on the issue, with a ratio of 75 to 1 against the president. Peyser said:

"Once it becomes established that a president or congress can, by the expedient of tampering with the court's membership, alter the constitution, to suit current political whims, our form of government loses its stability. The constitution, under such a condition, becomes a document of doubtful protection to the rights of citizens and they in consequence lose confidence in our American institutions."

"Such a condition would be a fertile field for the creation of a dictatorship. I do not wish to imply in any way that President Roosevelt has dictatorial aspirations but we do not know who his successors will be in future years."

The president's supporters announced Senator Logan (D) of Kentucky would join their forces. Logan was scheduled to address the senate during the afternoon, urging adoption of the president's program.

The radio battle between the two sides meanwhile continued unabated. The latest aerial debaters were Senator Clark (D) of Missouri, who opposed the plan, and WPA administrator Harry L. Hopkins who urges its adoption.

day that if this is true, the library board would not expect the WPA to vacate before July 1. The old post-office building is available therefore until at least July 1. By that time it is expected the forces will be reduced to such a place that large quarters will not be necessary.

Mr. Downie refuses to consider the old knitting building on the grounds that it is a fire trap. While it is not fireproof, it did house nearly 300 workers and a huge stock of bedding, bedclothes and clothes at one time.

There is an entrance to the building on the north and east sides on the first floor. In addition a wide stairway to the second and third floors there are two fire escapes, one on the west and one on the south sides.

One of the reasons assigned by Mr. Downie for moving to a place like Koppel is that the headquarters would be far enough away from "pressure groups" that they would find it difficult to get to the headquarters.

Two buildings are offered in Beaver county, one in Koppel and the Union Drawn Bank building in Beaver Falls.

Chamber Protests

Today A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce entered a vigorous protest against the removal of the headquarters to Beaver county. It was pointed out to Mr. Downie and he agreed that this would put the headquarters in the southern corner of district 14 and that the Mercer county people would have about 30 miles additional to drive each day. This Downie agreed to also.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna, a prominent Democrat entered the fight Monday afternoon and called State Senator William J. Eroe, Jr. on the telephone. With Assemblyman Carmel G. Preston, the state headquarters of the WPA were contacted. They immediately called J. W. Moorhead of the SERB to find out if the old knitting plant was large enough. They were assured that it was.

As the matter stands now, there is no necessity of moving from the old postoffice building until July 1, and if there were, the old knitting plant is available. The argument that it is a fire trap could be used against the Lawrence county court house also. However Mr. Downie seems to think that the headquarters should be moved to Beaver county and unless authorities higher than he insist upon the headquarters staying here, they may be moved to Beaver county.

The death rate in England and Wales is the lowest on record for both men and women, according to statistics of the registrar-general in London. It is less than half the average rate for the fiscal decade of the last century. The death rate for 1,000 infants born alive and dying before their first birthday, is 57, compared with 64 in 1933 and 128 in the first decade of the century.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS JUDGE WALTER BRAHAM

"The Law and the Changing World" was discussed in a brilliant manner by Judge W. Walter Braham when he addressed members of the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church.

"There are two phases of the law," Judge Braham told his audience, "the new or progressive and the old or conservative. We must not expect the law to keep pace with the most advanced thinking. It should lag a step to the rear, putting the breaks on too rapid progress. The old adage still holds good, 'Make haste slowly'."

"How many of the laws which were passed in haste and later declared unconstitutional, would we now want? It is the function of the supreme court to put the breaks on government. If we remove the power of the court, the legislature is supreme, and we would then be at the mercy of hasty legislation. It is true that we must leave the way open for progress, but we must also have a balance wheel."

"Frequent comment has been made upon the advanced age of members of the court. Since when are we to dispense with the wisdom of age? There has been much criticism of our constitution, but it is the fundamental frame of the law. Rather than promote dissatisfaction and unrest by pointing out its defects, we should teach a reverence for it. That form of government is best which keeps the affection of the people for their government."

In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. L. Gormley, the vice-president, Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, presided over the meeting. Mrs. John E. Elliott, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker. Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. Harry McKee, Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Steele.

She also spoke of organization of educational classes for these people, of teaching them how to live as Americans, and also acting as interpreter. Another duty of hers is to meet new arrivals as they come to New Castle from their homelands.

GETTYSBURG IN '38

JULY 1, 1938, will be the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first day of the momentous combat at Gettysburg, rightly rated in world history, as well as in United States history, as one of the decisive battles of all time.

Preparations are already under way for a special observance of that anniversary, and for one thing there is to be a joint reunion of veterans from both sides. Pennsylvania extends the invitation.

Twenty-five years ago, at the fiftieth anniversary of the battle, more than 50,000 veterans of the Blue and the Gray assembled. The then governor of Pennsylvania, John K. Tener, suggested the invitation for the anniversary this year, and the Pennsylvania State Commission now carries out his idea.

It is planned to make the occasion one of special significance. In addition to the proposed reunion of the survivors, few in number as they will then be, it is hoped that it will be possible to unveil an Eternal Light Peace Memorial, to be dedicated to all who any way participated in the Civil War.

Each state is to be asked to contribute $5,000 toward the memorial and the observance. As the memorial is in no sense an observance of incidents relating to the battle, but is to represent aims for lasting peace between the states, it is befitting that every state should act.

All associations with the issues involved in the tragedy are to be ignored. The main objective will be to commemorate peace with the consciousness that peace meant the beginning of complete unity, that unity which is the bond of national strength, representative of true democracy.

Gettysburg battlefield has long been a national park. More than one thousand monuments dot those hills—Little Round Top, Big Round Top, Culp's Hill and Cemetery Ridge. The Meadows, the Peach Orchard, Devil's Den, Rock Creek Valley, and the Wheat Field.

JUVENILE CENSORS

In Joplin, Missouri, groups of young people have organized a "children's crusade" directed against the operation of slot machines and other forms of gambling. Their aim is to suppress racketeering as well as the speculative instinct.

It is, to be sure, a meritorious objective. But one hesitates to endorse the idea of an adolescent moral dictatorship likely to encourage the emergence of juvenile snoopers, busybodies and Paul Pry's.

The adults of Joplin, however, should be put to shame by so vigorous a display of ethical interest on the part of mere boys and girls. Maybe this sense of shame, indeed, will be the chief justification of the movement, inducing the citizenship interest in social decency that should prevail.

PROFIT IN POMP

The board of directors of New York's World Fair of 1939 must feel a tinge of envy upon contemplating the publicity and profit that go with London's Coronation Week. For all its inventiveness, the board has no attraction, not even Grover Whalen, that approaches in universal appeal Britain's centuries-old rite.

Nearly 200,000 visitors are expected from the Continent and the Dominions overseas. The United States will swell the crowds and the profits by contributing 25,000 tourists, while the coronation bureau has lacked the temerity to estimate the number of trippers from the British Isles.

Fashionable hotels long have been sold out. The government has intervened to prevent profiteering and accordingly it may be possible to get a modest parlor, bedroom and bath for a modest $350 during coronation week. Ten thousand visitors will be in Thames boats. Edward's abdication has not dimmed world interest in the elevation of George VI, which threatened to be almost as profitable as the Irish Sweepstakes.

MARCH 15 APPROACHES

There is an element in the medical fraternity which scornfully denies the existence of the "common cold" and "rheumatism." There are even those in the profession who declare spring fever a myth, though it is hard to see how anyone can contend that the condition described does not exist. Certainly, 100 million sufferers can't be wrong.

As a matter of experience, it is well known that the first symptom of the ailment in many cases is an inability to get around to filling out an income tax form. The sufferer resolves sometime in early February to tackle his return without delay, but somehow the mere sight of the tax blank leaves him impotent and helpless. This persists for weeks, and is akin to that psychic disturbance in which the victim is gripped by nameless fears in any large open space, like those in a tax form.

The crisis comes on or about March 14, when the patient by a superhuman effort rallies his feeble energies and totters into the collector's office, bearing the blank, and cabalistic figures on odd bits of paper and the backs of old envelopes. There a deputy clerk, with the correct bedside manner, examines his data. At last he is free—a shaken wretch, but cured, though it will be weeks before he is his old self. Perhaps this isn't spring fever, but why quarrel over words? Any honest physician recognizes the condition and that it exists—he should, if he makes out a tax return.

The proof of mental maturity is that you no longer scorn those who aren't like you.

The Parent Problem

STUDENTS TAKE EXCURSIONS

In certain European countries, especially the Scandinavian countries, it has been a school custom for I don't know how many years for teachers to go on long or short journeys with their children, on foot. On the way, many observations of nature are recorded and discussed on their return, as well as industrial, civic and sociological developments. In Russia, last summer, I saw over so many groups of children going places with their teachers.

The school excursion rapidly is developing in North America, too. Recently I was visiting in a school building in Battle Creek, Mich., where I was told that the kindergarten children had gone with their teacher to see a train come in. In a Cleveland school one April afternoon, I saw a group of second graders going out to the park with notebooks and pencils to see birds.

My youngest boy, now in junior high, has reported several times a year, some excursion his class has taken, since he first entered school. In several instances his mother or I went along, providing transportation. His most thrilling trip was during his sixth grade when his class went just before Christmas to an old ladies' home to sing Christmas carols. His latest visit was to the water supply center of our city. At the dinner table he gave an interesting account of it, explaining many of the scientific principles involved.

In many cities classes of children constantly are visiting museums. You and I know many parents who make frequent trips with their children to art museums, museums of natural history, and historic places.

Such trips give children much to think about at home; and parents who care gain thereby profitable comradeship with their children. One school purpose, with young children, is to afford them a rich background in learning to read. Often the children old enough to write develop their written composition about these trips.

Recently I received a letter signed "Kathryn Hanson, secretary, student council of the E. R. H. Club," from a one-room rural school at Waterford, Pa.

"We saw the piece in the paper you wrote about our student council, and we were very proud of it. A number of us went last August to see Mr. Hayes, a teacher who taught at our school in 1887, and put on a student council program for him."

What a fine thing to do! Why not more such school visits to homes of some of the old people who were once leaders in the community? A school visit by some of them, when they would tell about their childhood days, also would be valuable educational practice.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NATIONAL LOYALTY

The people of these United States are for the most part very like a flock of sheep. They will follow anyone who will give them something for nothing.

We have thought for years that the constitution was a first rate document and that its checks and double checks upon thoughtless and limited use of legislative power was limited by the presidential veto and that when that failed the supreme court would limit all. We do not seem to have any abiding faith in our form of government—no deep conception of the value of our constitution.

The constitutional idea of a monarchistic government, ingrained into the English people is so different, and the depth at which the conception of monarchy is implanted in the British people is reflected in the vote on the abdication measure taken in the House of Commons a few weeks ago.

There were many "radicals" there—men who would not hesitate an instant to tear down the social economic structure of England and the Empire and replace it with one of their own choosing. There were scores present who advocate such action in public meetings and in the House at frequent intervals. But Republicanism? Just five members out of the 408 present could accept such a conclusion of the events of the past few weeks.

That is that it is the overwhelming sentiment of this House and of our fellow citizens throughout the world," said Sir John Simon, speaking of the idea of monarchy, "that this conception, created and developed by the genius of the British people, will be again vindicated and strengthened in the new king."

The last time a vote on monarchism was taken in the House of Commons, 64 years ago, four members voted against it. A few days ago it was five.

How many members of our congress have any such loyalty to the conceptions of our forefathers?

"No," replied the soldier, and wondered why his claim was thrown out.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I frequently go to the same restaurant for lunch. A man whom I know fairly well has his lunch in this place. Would it be improper for me to go over and sit at his table or should I simply speak to him and select another table?—D. D.

Answer—Never subject yourself even to the suspicion of soliciting hospitality from a man.

If possible, you should select a table which you can reach without passing that of the acquaintance in question and leave to him the privy of visiting your table and of inviting you to sit with him or not, as he may prefer.

Take a seat at his table only if previous invitation.

Dear Miss Markel—In sending commencement invitations for a graduation, should one remove the tissue paper, also should the inner envelope be addressed?—High School Senior

Answer—Yes. Remove the tissue paper, which is placed therein merely to protect the ink, not vet bear the name only.

The outside envelope should bear the name and address of the addressee. The inside envelope should bear the name only.

New Dealers Worry Anew.
Troubled Over Small Boss.
Mexican Policy Moderated.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Columnist

THE 40-HOUR WEEK, higher wages and union recognition probably will be here prior to the end of the year—for larger corporations. The Roosevelt administration worries over smaller employers—particularly sweat shop employers.

Nor is there a likelihood that the administration will be able to do much in the way of laws, Supreme court rulings on New Deal legislation stand in the way. States, too, are in much the same boat. Supreme court rulings stand in the way. This is what President Roosevelt terms "No Man's Land."

UP GO PRICES

You will find prices rising steadily now on manufactured goods and building construction.

Shortened hours, higher wages mean increased costs. They will be passed on. In some instances higher wages may be dissipated by increased living costs.

Somewhere along the line, somehow an adjustment will have to be made to equalize conditions—otherwise, many unfortunate persons may starve. Higher wages, higher costs do not offer a solution to economic maldistribution.

IN MEXICO

Mexico's policy toward the Catholic church is one of moderation in spite of the recent clash in the state of Vera Cruz. We are indebted to Charles A. Thompson of the Foreign Policy Association for this information.

"In Mexico's religious struggle, state legislation has often exceeded federal in severity and radicalism. Vera Cruz has been outstanding in this respect. The laws of this region have prohibited religious ceremonies and limited the number of priests to one for every 100,000 persons in the population although masses are regularly celebrated in Mexico City and many of the states."

"The policy of the federal government under President Cardenas has been directed toward gradual moderation of hostility toward the church. The present executive has not been as aggressive an anti-clerical as former President Calles."

Girl Scouts' New Director On Duty Today

Miss Eleanor LeFevre established in South Mercer Street Headquarters

ASSUMING FULL CHARGE OF GIRLS

Miss Eleanor LeFevre this morning took over her new duties as director of New Castle Girl Scouts. Early today she was at her desk in the newly established headquarters, 17½ South Mercer street. This is the first time the New Castle organization has had a full-time director since the resignation of Miss Nance Pugh several years ago.

Miss LeFevre, whose home is in Cumberland Md., has had a vast amount of Girl Scout experience. Previous to accepting the position here she was serving Region Three as a part-time director. She was in New Castle in that capacity last fall and was liked so well that she was asked to return and take complete charge.

She came here today from Sharon where she has been giving courses in leaders' training for the past several months. She will be in her office, located on the second floor, between the Red Cross and Anti-Tuberculosis Society offices, every day, and a telephone is to be installed there on Wednesday.

SLOGAN WINNER

Harley E. Shoaff, Sr., 206 South Walnut street, has received a communication from C. M. Wilson, assistant director, National Americanism Commission, which states that Shoaff is the Legionnaire who submitted the slogan "Over the Top With Pop," which has been used several times in the Sons of The American Legion column in The National Legionnaire. The slogan was used in connection with the Sons of The American Legion membership campaign.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop is providing an estimate of cost for pumps and other equipment necessary to force sewage from the disposal plant into the Mahoning river when it becomes swollen reiterated yesterday that surface water which flows into sanitary sewers when high water occurs has considerable to do with the operation of the plant. During the last high water siege the flow through the plant was as high as 15,000,000 gallons of sewer water a day. The normal flow is 5,000,000 gallons.

Delivery of the 50,000 pounds of liquid chlorine for treatment of sewage at the disposal plant will probably be delayed until warm weather. The contract was given to Meyer & Weller.

Patrolman Cecil Suber, who has been assigned to operating a cruiser car, began his career as lieutenant of police at midnight. He is one of the youngest men in the department. Quite a few other changes in patrols were made by Police Chief Ralph Criswell, all of which became effective today.

Would Raise Age Limit For Drivers In Pennsylvania

Eighteen Years Is Urged As Minimum Age For Auto Drivers

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 2.—A bill raising the maximum age limit for automobile drivers from 16 to 18 years and requiring all operators to pass a physical examination every five years will be introduced in the legislature this week, Rep. Frank J. Zappala announced today.

Zappala said he will introduce the measure as a means of cutting the appalling number of automobile accidents.

"The speed mania is likely to affect the very young driver," he explained. "I believe 16 is too young. A youth two years older has better judgment. From what I can learn, from three to five per cent of the accidents are caused by drivers of the lowest age limit."

"Statistics show that 10 per cent of all automobile accidents are due to some defect of the driver. As the law stands the state has no check on a driver's fitness to be at the wheel after he once has received an operator's license."

"The result is that many persons are driving whose sight is bad, whose hearing is impaired or who may be suffering from a heart condition or other ailment that makes them unsafe drivers."

"My idea would be to require each driver to provide a physician's certificate or undergo an examination by some one designated by the state every five years. I feel sure this would prevent thousands of accidents every year."

Barnyard Hen Is Killed At Old Age Of Thirty

Pet Of Household Lives To Age Of Thirty, Is Killed By Dogs

(International News Service)
URBANA, O., March 2.—Believe it or not, but here's a story about a 31-year-old hen, common barnyard variety. She has stirred up no end of argument about how old a chicken can get. This particular hen will not be able to answer the question for she is dead—but not of a natural death.

Back in 1906, when a well-known Urbana family moved in from the country they brought their chickens along. In due time all of them died of a natural death or provided dinners for the family—that is, all except one old Plymouth Rock hen.

She escaped the pot, first because she was a family pet, and second, because she got too old and tough to eat. Finally she got so old that she lost all of her feathers.

Recently she ran afoul of several playful dogs who had no respect for old age. They nuzzled her, pushed her, and nibbled her. She couldn't get away, but could still cackle loud enough to attract the attention of several neighbor women who drove the dogs away.

But the poor bird was all in, so much in that her owner decided the best thing to do would be to kill her. Thus the world lost a fine chance to find out how long a chicken could live if permitted to be left alone.

President "Fussy" About His Meals

Wants Menu Changed And So First Lady Gives Him 20 Different Menus

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Roosevelt has won his own "sit down" strike—against the meals he has been getting at the White House. Mrs. Roosevelt let the cat out of the bag the other day when she confessed that her husband, even as any other man, had complained of the sameness of the luncheons which he almost invariably eats from a tray on his desk.

Investigation disclosed he had been getting "too much broiled liver and string beans." He was tired of it.

Monday, after a session with Mrs. Nesbitt, the housekeeper, Mrs. Roosevelt presented her husband with 20 different luncheon menus and hereafter he can have his choice of 'em. His choice today was stuffed crabs.

"Anyone who eats in one place exclusively is apt to get a little tired of the food," philosophized Mrs. Roosevelt. Also, like any other man, she indicated the president is finicky about his food. Sometimes he wants a "regular breakfast" with salt fish, scrambled eggs and sausages, and other times he wants only orange juice or milk toast.

During councilmanic session at the city building Monday, council approved a deed prepared by Solicitor William G. Coburn by which the city will turn over to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania the site at Cascade Park, on which an armory is under construction.

The state had notified the city that it desired a fee simple deed and it was decided to conform to the commonwealth's desire.

The land previously had been deeded to the state for the purpose of an armory. This did not suit the state, it being explained in council that the state did not wish any strings attached to the gift.

U. S. Senator Reynolds says: "Luckies are considerate of my throat"

"Two Southern traditions are oratory—and good tobacco. Lucky Strike shows me how to indulge in both. For this light smoke not only pleases my taste but leaves my throat in condition. Last fall in North Carolina—when I made over 100 speeches—I visited the Lucky Strike factory. I believe I discovered, in the Lucky Strike 'Toasting' process, the secret of what makes this cigarette so considerate of my throat. I have been more than ever an advocate of a light smoke since seeing the extra care and expense devoted to making Luckies easy on the throat."

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Reynolds' statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

Many Enlist In U. S. Army During First Two Months

Large Number Of Men From Local District Join Army This Year

During the first two months of this year a total of 39 persons applied for enlistment in the United States army through local recruiting station in the Federal building. According to Corporal George Trebesch, officer-in-charge of this office, only 25 of this number were successful in passing the examinations for enlistment into the service.

Out of this number seven went to the air corps, 13 to foreign service and the remaining number are now in service in the United States army posts in this country.

Corporal Trebesch now states that everything is now closed to enlistment for men from this district, but Langley Field, Va. This is the air corps service and is open only to men who are high school graduates. Trebesch is now accepting enlistments and forming a waiting list for service in the army.

Of the 120,000 blind persons in the United States, only 25 per cent can read Braille.

Makes Estimate Of Cost Of Pumps At Disposal Plant

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop during the meeting at the city hall on Monday furnished the council with an estimate of cost for three pumps, pipe fittings, piping labor, electric wiring and starting switches, vacuum pumps and repairs to present valves in connection with the operation of the city sewage disposal plant. The estimate was $12,300.

Equipment is necessary, it was explained, to force water from the disposal plant when high water, similar to that which occurred recently, recedes, and when it is impossible to by-pass the sewage into the river. He said this would, in his opinion, provide for taking care of 15,000,000 gallons of sewage which pass through the plant on such occasions. The normal flow is 5,000,000 gallons.

Plans and specifications for the material necessary to put the plant in a position to handle the increased amount of sewage were asked by Director of property Joseph D. Alexander.

... "don't you hear enough about telephones at the switchboard all day, without talking telephone when you're off duty? What's the big idea?"

"I am interested in telephone service," I told her, "and I'll tell you why. Being an operator I know how handy a telephone is in so many ways—and how priceless in emergencies. I've put through hundreds of rush calls for doctors, ambulances, police or fire departments. And I can't help thinking how much a telephone means when people need help in a hurry."

SIT-DOWN STRIKE OCCURS IN MINE

tinued to whirl, keeping the men supplied with fresh currents and drawing out all noxious fumes.

As far as could be learned, the men suffered no great discomfort underground on the first night of their strike.

Appear Little Concerned

John Keck, superintendent of the mine who lives on the mine property, was ill in bed with influenza. Representatives of the strikers assured him that nothing would be harmed or destroyed.

Wives, children and sweethearts of the sitdowners gathered jovially at the mine entrance this morning, joking with one another. They seemed not to be the least concerned.

The strikers comprised the day shift of the mine which prepares the coal blasted out by the night shift. Men on the night shift were refused admittance to the mine.

Similar demands recently closed the Republic mine of the Republic Steel and Iron Company near here when the operators refused to accede to demands to check-off special fines and assessments. Although the miners later voted to rescind the strike call, the company kept the mine closed for more than a week additional.

Moves To End Strike

New York, March 2—Billy Hynes, president of District 4 of the United Mine Workers of America, moved swiftly today to end the sit-down strike of miners at Uniontown, Pa., which Hynes said is "unauthorized and illegal."

Apprised that approximately 350 coal workers had taken possession of the Jamison mine of the South Union Coal Company in a subterranean sit-down strike, Hynes said he would use every means at his command to bring about settlement of the difficulty.

"It is a violation of the union contract," said Hynes who is attending the work-and-wage conference of bituminous coal operators and representatives of union miners here.

Following the report, Edwina Conner introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Mildred Rogers. Dr. Rogers gave a very excellent talk on health with special emphasis on its importance in a girl's vocational life.

THE BETTER THE LIGHT... THE HIGHER THEIR MARKS

YOUNG students often find arithmetic and geography a rather irksome task. Study becomes even more difficult with unnecessary eye-strain. Light is inexpensive but children's eyesight is priceless. Let Westinghouse Mazda Lamps protect their eyes.

Madrid Again Battle Center In Spain's War

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, March 2—A night rebel attack on the university city sector of Madrid was repulsed, loyalist commanders said today, as action in Spain's civil war again shifted to the front surrounding the capital.

The insurgents failed to break through the tightening circle of government forces in the university city area, officials here said.

They added that leftist troops again successfully counter-attacked rebels at the famous bridge of the French, improving the government positions there.

Meanwhile, a rebel communique from Salamanca said the Northern insurgent army occupied Portuñubio, capturing quantities of munitions, and that government forces were discouraged by their losses in the battle raging for possession of Oviedo.

Intense artillery fire was reported on the Southern sector of the Tagus river with insurgents at Toledo bombarding the loyalist base on the other side of the river.

Government troops returned the fire, however, and forced the rebels out of the city's suburbs. The city was claimed to be virtually in the hands of loyalists.

GOVERNOR'S TAX BILLS PUSHED IN LEGISLATURE

Committee Has Reported Bills

Republicans Assail Claims Of Administration Of Tax Reduction

CLAIM INCREASE IS TEN MILLIONS

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, March 2.—The Democratic-controlled legislature today pushed onto the firing line the administration tax bills Gov. George H. Earle expects will yield $161,330,000 during the next biennium.

Reported from committee in the house, the bills included in what Republicans caustically termed Governor Earle's "miracle message" on the budget, were up for first reading as a fight loomed on a counter-proposal for administering unemployment relief.

Pass Relief Transfer
Even as the house took up slack and launched enactment of tax legislation, the senate marked the opening of the third legislative month by passing finally the "key" flood control and $5,700,000 relief transfer bills.

A Republican challenge to Governor Earle's claim of a $25,950,000 tax reduction, predicted last week by International News Service, sharpened attention on the bills continuing ten emergency taxes during 1937-39. The verbal lash was administered by Rep. Ellwood J. Turner, Delaware, Republican floor leader of the house.

Calling attention to Governor Earle's $354,185,000 estimate of governmental cost for the coming biennium, turned declared:
"Here we find that the cost set forth by the governor is to be ten million dollars greater than the cost during the current biennium."

"Reduction Is Myth"
"The reduction is therefore a myth. The ten million dollars increase is a fact."

Into the house from committee also came the administration's four housing bills, paving the way for slum-clearance and general housing improvements in Pennsylvania's congested areas. The four measures would set up a state housing board and housing authorities for counties and individual communities and would permit limited dividend housing corporations and fund borrowing for such improvement.

Legislators saw a tightening of the relief embargo in the introduction of a bill, sponsored by three house Democrats and one Republican that placed on record a proposed system of administering state aid in conflict with the Goodrich committee recommendations. It provides no welfare or public assistance department supervision as urged by the Goodrich committee and the governor and would have relief administered by local boards of seven members, four to be named by the governor and three by county commissioners.

With the flood control and relief transfer measures out of the way, the senate today turned its attention to the Hulseka bill for certification of bituminous miners, given second reading last night. The bill was defeated at the first 1936 special legislative session.

Immediate relief funds for March and as long thereafter as they last were assured when the $5,700,000 Cohen appropriation bill went to the governor for signing.

Plan St. David's Day Observance

Program Will Be Presented On Saturday Evening On South Side

HARRY H. DAVIES TO BE TOASTMASTER

JACKIE REES

While Monday was St. David's Day, the annual celebration of the day will not be held in New Castle until Saturday night March 6 it was announced today. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Ivorites and the Welsh Women's club and will be held in the dining room of the Central Christian church.

The toastmaster for the evening will be Harry H. Davies, president of the local Ivorite lodge with Rev. Rees T. Williams the speaker. The program is in charge of a committee headed by Henry T. Jones.

For the soloist of the evening the committee has secured Jackie Rees, a famous boy soprano of Wales who is touring the United States at the present time. He was a double winner in the National Elstedford in 1935 and 1936, has sung command performances before King George V and King Edward VIII and is the winner of over 250 cups and medals for his work.

He has an unusual voice it is said and although just a boy has appeared in many parts of the world. The committee feels fortunate in being able to secure him for the St. David's banquet here.

The dinner will start at 6:30 o'clock and will undoubtedly be attended by a large crowd. Congregational singing will be featured and the program promises well.

No Ice Harvest At Grove City

GROVE CITY, March 2.—Lack of continued freezing temperatures will prevent the annual harvest at Barmore Lake this year, it is believed. Last year, no ice was cut for another reason—too much snow, although the ice was frozen for 18 inches.

For nearly 20 years, Fred Armour has harvested 2,200 tons annually at the lake, which is the capacity of the storage houses. There have been few years when not thick enough to cut profitably, but the lake has only been frozen twice this year for periods of two or three days.

Push Selection Of Second Jury

Eight Jurors Are Accepted First Day In Sanute Trial

SEEK SECOND MAN FOR "TAMPERING"

(International News Service)
SOMERSET, Pa., March 2.—Former County Detective R. E. Buckman has made a statement admitting his knowledge of an alleged attempt to corrupt the jury which found State Trooper Stacey Gundersen guilty of second degree murder. Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti asserted today.

Margiotti's statement was made as detectives and state police sought Thomas Courtney, a Conellsville coal man whose arrest along with that of Buckman was ordered by the attorney general yesterday as State Trooper Anthony Sanute went on trial.

There was nothing in the attorney general's statement to indicate that the jury, which returned the maximum verdict possible under the charge of supreme court justice George W. Maxey for the alleged "third degree" death of Frank C. Monaghan, 64, Uniontown hotel-keeper, had been "reached."

Allege Attempt To Influence
Margiotti charged Buckman's statement was made to District Attorney A. M. Matthews and Lieut. John Tomek of the state police soon after he was arrested and posted bond. According to the statement attributed to Buckman by Margiotti, an attempt was allegedly made to persuade S. N. Lowry and Adam Berkebile, jury constables, to attempt to influence the jurors.

The attorney general, special prosecutor in the case, asserted Buckman admitted being approached twice by Courtney, the first time three weeks before Gundersen went on trial.

Chief defense counsel John J. Duggan Jr., slightly acquainted with Courtney and did not know Buckman, at all.

Buckman posted $4,000 bond on charges of embracery, corrupt solicitation and bribery when he was arrested.

Judge George W. Maxey, apparently had not taken the "fix" charges seriously. He explained he had warned Courtney against any "improper conduct" after hearing he had approached one of the tip-staves and asked "how the jury seemed to be going."

The selection of the jury, unlike the slow progress made during the first trial, went ahead at great speed. But six jurors, including two alternates, remained to be chosen this morning before testimony in the trial can begin.

First Jurors Named
Already chosen the first day were the following:
Hugh Hunter—a Shade township miner who will act as foreman of the jury.

Mrs. Bertha Auman—wife of a Somerset township farmer.
Karl J. Christner—farmer.
Ted O. Rhoades—a resident of Somerset township.

J. B. Ober—clerk in a Hooverville mine's company store.
H. J. Koontz—president of the Hooverville National Bank.

Mrs. Margaret Lohr—wife of Robert Lohr, an employee in a Meyersdale meat market.
Robert M. Pickworth—brother of I. G. Pickworth, a juror in the Gundersen trial.

REFERRED TO ENGINEER
W. M. Tribby asked the council at their meeting in city hall Monday for permission to install underground gasoline tanks in Vogan alley in the rear of the 1700 block in East Washington street. Fire and police chiefs said this would not increase the fire hazard in the section. The petition was referred to the city engineer. A concrete building is also to be erected at the site.

For Double-Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Better Than Ready-Made Medicines. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, but, for real results, it is still the best thing ever known for coughs that start from colds. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of actually better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

And there is positively nothing like it for quick action. You can feel it take hold instantly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages. No cough remedy, at any price, could be more effective.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Flood Control Bill Is Ready For Signature

Measure Sponsored By Administration Passes Senate 34 To 13 On Monday

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—On Gov. George H. Earle's desk today was the administration's "key" flood control bill, ready to be written into the commonwealth's statute books with the chief executive's signature. The measure passed the senate finally last night by a 34 to 13 vote, following opposition to the bill by a small Democratic bloc that objected to its present form which would permit the state "someday" to go into the power business.

Opposition Heard
The opposition was headed by Sen. George A. Rupp, Allentown. Sen. W. H. Rodgers, Pittsburgh, declared there was "no thought on the part of the state of going into the power business at present" and urged passage of the bill. Rupp moved to send the measure back to committee to rip out the provision, but he was voted down 31 to 16. It already has passed the house.

The measure permits the commonwealth to join its sister states and the federal government in an "adequate" flood control measure. Supplemental bills, including a $5,000,000 appropriation for land purchasing, are also assured of final passage.

Coal Mining Laws Studied By Committee

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 2.—The senate mines and mining committee today studied the administration's codification of the bituminous coal mining laws. Sen. John J. Haluska, chairman of the committee and sponsor of the voluminous measure, told International News Service it would be some time before it would be placed on the floor of the upper chamber.

The bill clarifies and makes more stringent safety regulations and deals with every phase of bituminous mining in which a worker's life or health would be endangered.

A court not specifically provided for in the law was held Monday afternoon in court room number one with Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Brahm sitting. It was a Court of Remembrance, in which the memories of former Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell, and Attorneys Clyde V. Ailey and Charles G. Martin, all deceased, were recalled and tributes paid to their sterling qualities.

Attorney Edwin K. Logan presented a memorial to the memory of Mr. Campbell, Attorney Marshall Matheny to the memory of Attorney Martin, and Attorney Charles Matthews to the memory of Attorney Ailey.

In the resolutions the sorrow of the bar was expressed, the worth of the deceased praised and their many fine qualities mentioned in words of genuine appreciation.

Attorney J. Clyde Gilfillan, president of the bar association added his word of appreciation for all three of the men being honored and following him the following members of the bar spoke, Robert L. Wallace, George W. Muse, former Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, Joseph W. Humphrey. Both judges added their words of tribute and the resolutions were ordered spread upon the court records and a copy sent to the families.

Judge George W. Rowley, of Mercer will be in New Castle on Wednesday to rule upon some cases he heard and also to hear the argument between the county commissioners and the sheriff over the meat bills for 1936, which have not yet been paid. This argument is going by rounds with both sides getting decisions in various tilts. The one man who hasn't won a round yet is the butcher who sold the meat.

Argument court was held Monday when a number of cases were argued by counsel for new trials. This is one court that attracts little attention from the layman but is highly important. A number of civil cases which were tried in February were on the list for argument.

Attorney Edwin F. G. Harper celebrated his 40th birthday on Monday, but it was his fortieth legal birthday. On March 1, 1897, he was admitted to practice in the courts of Lawrence County.

Letters of administration have been issued to Mary L. Rankin as executrix in the estate of Margaret V. Rankin, late of New Castle who died November 19, 1936.

Returns of the grand jury will probably start some time late Tuesday or early Wednesday morning.

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity. You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonfuls every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

No Third Term For Roosevelt

Insiders Say That Is Reason
President Is Rushing
Reform Measures

SUPREME COURT IDEA LOOKS LOST

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, March 2—Students of what's doing at the White House (mostly newspapermen, well-informed members of the two houses of congress, executive officials in the upper brackets and miscellaneous politicians of sufficient prominence to consider themselves in touch with the inside of affairs at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue) have about reached the conclusion that President Roosevelt, after all, has no intention of seeking a third term.

For quite a while after his last victory many guesses were heard to the effect that, breaking every precedent he would be a candidate again in 1940.

Now the guessing is the other way.

HASTENING EFFORTS

The up-to-the-minute theory is that the presidential incumbent would not be in such haste to get the authority of his office entrenched if he were not expecting his influence to end with his current White House tenancy.

In fact, he has intimated, if not outright said, that he believes he can put his program through before the end of his present term.

The inference might seem to be that he does not hope to complete his task at all unless he can do it as soon as that. Anyway, that is how his policy and his hints are interpreted by those who have observed and listened to them with the interest interest.

But suppose—?

Of course there is this qualification:

Suppose that "F. D." arrives at 1940 with his plans apparently nearing fruition, but in danger of being "queered" if a couple of nominations or an election should go wrongly, according to his reckoning. Then wouldn't he be considered himself bound to run a third time?

I have no idea that he himself knows the correct answer to this question.

Apparently, however, he is confident of winning before it needs to be answered, and then proposes to retire, passing it on to his successor to operate under the new schedule—of his creation.

Naturally, in parenthesis, he will desire to dictate his successor and be the unofficial mainpring of the latter's administration.

A PROBLEM

There is another possibility: Suppose the presidential plan encounters numerous obstructions, and arrives in 1940, not on the point of being adopted, but in bad shape.

In that event will "F. D." prefer to run again to fight it out?

Or will he give it up as a hopeless job?

CAN HE WIN?

It is not easy to think of President Roosevelt as overwhelmingly licked.

Still, his supreme court contest is a doubtful one.

It looks 50-50 that he will lose—unless he compromises. And can he compromise on a basis that will "save his face"?

Undoubtedly he has the house of representatives with him. Perhaps not the senate. In the event of such a deadlock, the issue will be vital in the congressional election of 1938. It will be hard on Roosevelt if that goes against him, popularly.

LETTERS IMPRESS.

And the supreme court, strangely, appears to be popular.

I should not have supposed so. I have heard it popularly "cussed out" often enough. Yet, attacked, it has defenders all over the country.

Administrationists say that letters pouring in in opposition to "packing" it, are "canned" correspondence. They impress legislators' all the same.

EXECUTE AGREEMENT

When council met Monday in the municipal building execution of an agreement between Meyer & Weller and the city for the purchase of 50,000 pounds of liquid chlorine to be used at the city disposal plant was authorized. The firm recently was awarded a contract whereby they are to sell the chlorine to the city.

Your Income Tax In A Nutshell

EXTENSION FOR FILING RETURNS AND PAYMENT OF TAX

It is important that the taxpayer render on or before the due date, which is March 15 if the return is filed on the calendar year basis, a return of income as nearly complete and final as it is possible for him to prepare. However, when by reason of illness, absence from home, inability to secure the necessary data, or for other good and sufficient reasons additional time is required, a reasonable extension of time may be granted. Application should be made in writing to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer files his returns on or before the due date of the return, a full recital of the causes for the delay being given. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no extension may be granted for a period of more than six months.

An extension of time for filing the return does not extend the time for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, unless so specified in the extension. Application for an extension of time payment of the tax or any installment thereof should be made on form 1127 to the commissioner of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is filed. The applicant should set forth under oath the specific reason for desiring an extension and should clearly indicate what hardship, if any, would result if the extension were not granted. In addition, a statement of assets and liabilities showing the taxpayer's financial condition as of the last day of the preceding month, or as of the last taxable period, and a separate statement of receipts and disbursements for each of the three months immediately preceding the month in which the application is filed should be submitted. The amount of tax for which the extension of time of payment is desired should be stated. The commissioner will not consider an extension of time for payment unless request is made on or before the due date of the tax or installment thereof. If the extension is granted, interest at the rate of 6 per cent a year is collectible from the date the payment should have been made if there had been no extension to the expiration of the period of the extension.

The hearings will "consider prices to producers, consumers and dealers and readjustment of milk marketing areas."

The Harrisburg hearing will be held March 3 for the state-wide marketing area, No. 10 (rural areas) and the Harrisburg area; the Philadelphia hearing will be held March 4, embracing communities of more than 1,000 persons in Philadelphia, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Delaware counties, and the Pittsburgh hearings, March 11, for the southwestern area, including Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Lawrence, Indiana, Westmoreland, Fayette, Washington and Greene counties and Sharon and Farrell in Mercer county.

American May Lose His Head On Nazi Block

(International News Service)
BERLIN, March 2.—The gates of grim Moabit prison, whose courtyard has seen dozens of beheadings, closed Monday on John J. Hughes, while attorneys strove to save him from the headman's axe.

Lawyers for both prosecution and defense questioned the American, trying to wring from him the reason why, after a series of eccentric acts, he suddenly shot down Oscar Hoffmann, an 82 year old man he had never seen before.

Definite charges are expected to be lodged against him tomorrow.

Attorneys believed they could avert a death sentence on the dual grounds: that the murder was not premeditated, and that Hughes was under a severe mental strain and therefore not responsible for his acts.

Americans are the world's best husbands. Other races of men still believe that woman's place is behind the eight ball.

Schmeling Will Try To Prevent Proposed Bout

Braddock And Louis Almost Certain To Carry Through With Chicago Bout June 22

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, March 2.—Max Schmeling, the man without a prize fight, is to arrive in this country tonight on the Berengaria with the avowed intention of fulfilling his part in the announced heavyweight championship fight with James J. Braddock in New York on June 3. Braddock, who is expected to win, is a mission seemingly fated to failure. One day later, the same ship will take another, ex-champion, Max Baer, to England for a series of bouts, the two circumstances being more or less unrelated except that, four years ago, Baer knocked Schmeling stiffer than a straw hat. Nevertheless, Schmeling was to arrive behind all the bluster of a personage who may not know exactly what he's about, yet is certain to hit the headlines with his first utterance. He seems to be a gentleman about to engage in a very curious proceeding, roughly known as the one-man prize fight.

Sign For Bout
Braddock, disdaining his contract with the German, has signed with Joe Louis for Chicago on June 22 and apparently means to go through with the performance. Schmeling knocked out Louis last summer and was accepted as the ranking challenger, but all that seems likely to get him is a pass to the park for Braddock and Louis. Anyhow, the latter are either determined to go on through with what they have to do or are putting on quite an act. Both have signed for the Chicago fight and have been assured that legal obstacles, as represented by Madison Square Garden's contract with Schmeling and Braddock, are no higher than the average face lift.

"Clipper" Smith Will Sign New Grid Contract

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—Illness of the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne university, again postponed affixing of his signature to a new contract. Coach Clipper Smith explained today. It was expected that as soon as Rev. Callahan is up and about again, Callahan will put his John Hancock on a new three-year agreement to replace the one-year paper which expired last Sunday.

Shenango High Club Will Meet Wednesday Night

Wednesday evening, March 3, at 8 o'clock, at Shenango high school, members of the Nautilus club, of Shenango high, will hold an important meeting.

Plans will be made for a trip to Duquesne Square Garden, March 6. Plans will also be formulated for a banquet honoring members of Shenango high basketball team, March 9.

Some Lines From Yesteryear

Johnny Datto, former featherweight fighter, is said to be a night club singer. He fought here several times, among his opponents being U. S. Carpenter. Carpenter was floored in the fifth and was unable to come out for the sixth round, August 21, 1928. He got up at the count of nine. Datto dropped another right on Carpenter's chin and the towel was thrown in when the sixth round bell rang. That was the night Elmo the Mighty leaned a heavy right on the jaw of Maxie Brown, the Youngstown tow-head. Brown got up without taking a count and went the limit.

Young Harris and Jack McCarthy went the limit, but Johnny Hanlon took a pasting from Jimmie Belmont who put Hanlon down several times, then won a technical knockout in the fourth. Hanlon was the chap who almost annihilated Eddie Conrad at the old Army. Hanlon had about a dozen pounds the best of Conrad.

Memory, experts contend, depends on a person's nervous condition. Persons who are tired or nervous have a tendency to forget things easily.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

CLEVELAND, O., March 2.—Strange situations arise in baseball. Walter Johnson was one of the last pitchers of all time, but his big worry when he was manager of the Cleveland Indians was the pitching staff. Steve O'Neill was one of the greatest catchers ever to block a runner at the plate, but now that he is manager of the Indians he is crossing his fingers and hopes that little Frankie Pytlak will be able to catch more than 100 men. . . . Pitching was Walter's. But Steve's Irish eye was bright and his smile was eager and confident when he left the other night for the New Orleans training camp of the Tribe. Pytlak seems to be in the greatest condition of his career, and if the half-pint can hold up without the injuries that have been his every year, O'Neill thinks the Indians may head off the Men of Manhattan.

"Last year," he said, "there was no regularity in the catching. A pitcher is helped a whole lot by having the same man to pitch to steady. Pitcher and catcher get to know each other, and to work as one man. This year Pytlak assures me he'll catch the whole schedule. If he holds on in there until September the Indians will surprise the league."

Lary A. Spark
"I think we've got a better club than we had last year and will win a lot more games. I like Lyn Lary at shortstop. I don't think there is a better shortstop in the league. In St. Louis in midsummer he was just as full of fight and hustle in the last inning of a double-header as he was when he led off, whether his club was winning or losing. He's not only a durable player, but he's a spark. He may be just the spark to set this team off. With fellows like Lary, Johnny Allen, Pytlak and Roy Hughes in the ball game, the Indians will have plenty of that old fight."

That's Thump!
Last year was Heath's first year as a professional player. He led the Mid-Atlantic league with an average of .383, driving in the record number of 187 runs with his 217 hits. He hit 28 home runs. Coming up to Cleveland in the fall, he batted .341 in a dozen games.

Heath is a native of Fort William, Ontario, but has resided most of his life in Seattle. He was a member of the All-American amateur team that toured Japan in 1935, and the best he could do was hit .483 on the trip.

That .483 and a few other factors are behind the bright smile of Mister O'Neill as he gathers his flock about him for training. And of course you've heard about that boy from Iowa with the fast ball. Steve isn't exactly sore about him, either.

Bullano Stars As Keystones Trim Ohioans

Sammy Bullano Rings Up 20 Points As Keys Upset Youngstown St. Pats 52 To 28

Led by Sammy Bullano with 20 points and by "Abie" Nocera with 15 points, the Keystone A. C. smothered the St. Patricks of Youngstown, Ohio last night 52 to 23 at the St. Pats floor. At the half the Keys led 21 to 12.

The fast passing attack of the Keys under Coach Venditto had the fans amazed. The addition of "Pop" Adams and "Abie" Nocera made the Keys quite formidable, the High School stars giving the Keys added punch.

Paul Morrison played a fine game at guard although not getting a field goal. Genrock had five points for the Keys. For the Ohioans the work of Corletzi and J. Morrison was the best.

The Keys play at Beaver Falls on Wednesday night.

Los Angeles, Mar. 2.—Kingfish Levinsky, who said he was "only fooling" about turning wrestler, went on a shipping spree today in preparation for his departure for London.

The erstwhile Chicago fish peddler, whose recent ring record has been liberally spattered with resin, accepted a $10,000 offer to fight Jack Doyle, Irish tenor-boxer, later this month in London.

A cablegram from Promoter Jeff Dickson, confirming the deal, was expected today by Harold Smallman, Levinsky's manager.

Union-Princeton Playing Tonight

Union high school girls and boys basketball teams will go to the Princeton high floor tonight for a final county league set of games. The girls will play the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock. Union will have the high-scoring Dorothy Robinson in the lineup.

It will be the last game for the Union in the county league, and will also be the final for Princeton.

Merchants To Meet

The East Side Merchants softball team will have an important meeting at the home of Ray Kelley on 936 Maryland avenue tonight. Many important questions will be brought up for discussion by the Merchants. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Competition in the lower bracket of the first round in the annual Allegheny-Kiski valley scholastic floor tourney at New Kensington, resulted in Butler high beating Bradbrook 35 to 24. Ball, forward for Butler, scored 16 points.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Morie Suber, the local catch-as-catch-can man will be pleased to learn that his friend, Jack Sherry, the Croatian bone crusher, who several seasons ago was quite prominent in Ohio grappling circles is now the heavyweight wrestling champion of England. Since Pete Askounes, the connoisseur, of matman, quit the promotions, Morrie has been on the shelf. Bill Lion who acted as Pete's matchmaker, is in Baltimore, on the inactive list.

The best of 'em makes errors and come-a-cropper now and then. "Prin-stance, there's Sonja. Henie, the world's greatest skater. She was exhibiting at Kansas city and the announced had just finished broadcasting "Ladies and gentlemen—the premier woman skater—the little lady with the sweet personality" when Sonja skated to the center of the arena. She floundered. Her feet flew up. Her arms flailed. She struck the ice, and she slid and slid. It turned out that workmen who had sprinkled the ice forgot to remove their hose and it was over that the premier woman skater went a-boon.

Bob Latara, the ex-copper, who has managed several fighters enjoyed the Louis-Pastor fight, but enjoyed himself more meeting the old timers such as Dumb Dan Morgan, Charles Doerserick and a lot of others who were more prominent a decade or two back. While in Gotham, Bob paid a visit to Dempsey's and the former Manassa mauler presented Bob with a flyweight glass. Morgan managed Jack Britton. Baling Levinsky and a host of good fighters, while Charlie Doerserick for years promoted fights at the Piquette place. Bob Latara, who came from Iowa with the fast ball, Steve isn't exactly sore about him, either.

West Virginia Wesleyan basketball team rallied in the last half to win from Bethany college at Buckhannon last night. The score was 59 to 41. The Bobcats took the lead three minutes after the second half started and held the lead to the end. Previously the lead changed 15 times. Ross, center for the winners, caged 20 points.

Lighthorse Harry Cooper, veteran Chicago professional and leading money winner of the winter campaign yesterday took the St. Petersburg open golf tournament in a three man play-off at St. Petersburg, Fla. Cooper defeated Horton Smith and Ralph Guldahl, two other Chicago professionals in an 18-hole play-off at the Pasadena golf club after the three had tied at the end of the 72-hole tourney last Friday with cards of 284. Four minutes after Cooper's 72 even par, he led Smith by two strokes and Guldahl by four in the play-off.

Peculiar things happen in sport, even in bird field trials. For instance, the gallery at Grand Junction, Tenn., saw Saddler, four year old pointer, owned by Dr. H. U. Bulbs of Salem, Mass., forsake the bird hunt to chase and kill a young pig. Angered, the pig mother, a 300 pound sow, charged the dog and pitched him into a gulley. He apparently was unhurt. Saddler began the afternoon Monday by pointing a covey shortly after the start but the birds flushed ahead of him. The pointer had two coveys find; when the three hour heat ended, Hoosier's Highboy Nip, from the Daniels Kennels, Cincinnati, and braccante of Saddler, proved hard to handle in locating one covey and a single Shore's Mabel Doome owned by J. F. Carlisle, Long Island, L. I., and Homewood Bill, owned by H. M. Curry kennels, Pittsburgh both pointers, turned in average performances in the morning. Sulu, the 1936 champion, owned by A. G. C. Sage of New York, was slated to run today.

One of the most interesting basketball games of the tri-state district is looked for tonight at Washington when W. J. and Geneva clash on the Presidents Court. W. J. has lost their three games to the Governors. Coach Adam Sanders will present two of the best stars in this district in Bud Jeanette and Bill Laughlin. Last season they averaged 25 points per game and this year they have been equally as good. Waynesburg's defeat of W. J. Saturday night was considered an upset by the Presidents and they wish to get back in their stride by obtaining revenge on Geneva for what the Governors has done to them and also for the Saturday night upset.

Royal Mail continues to the rule the favorite at 10 to 1 in the Grand National steeplechase, March 19 in England. Drimmore Lad, owned by Paul Mellon, is quoted at 20 to 1. . . . A proposal to legalize horse racing and pari-mutuel betting in Georgia reached the Georgia house of representatives yesterday. The author estimates revenue at $2,000,000 annually, if the measure becomes law. . . . St. Louis Browns have taken over control of Johnston in the Mid-Atlantic league. . . .

Ray Palmer, Jr., New York, turned in a 6-3, 9-7 upset victory over Gregory Mangin, the defending champ in the second round of the national men's indoor tennis singles at New York. Mangin followed Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., third seeded player, into defeat. Hendrix lost to Morris Adelsberg, New York, 8-6, 7-5.

Spain, mistress of half the world in early colonial days, met her downfall when she fought Holland, one of the smallest nations in Europe.

Maxie Baer Will Sail Wednesday For London, Eng.

Madison Square Garden Will Sue Maxie To Prevent His Fighting In England

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 2.—Madison Square Garden Monday definitely abandoned plans intended to prevent Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, from sailing for England on Wednesday but President John R. Kilpatrick announced that he would bring suit against Baer in London.

The ex-champion, annoyed by delay in granting a license here for a bout scheduled with Bob Pastor on March 19 is to meet the winner of the Ben Ford-Tommy Farr bout and probably engage in a match with Walter Neusel, of Germany, while in England.

Kilpatrick's proposed action in London is to restrain Baer appearing there on the claim that Madison Square Garden has a prior right to the fighter's services.

Tigers To Play Butler Tonight

This evening on the Lincoln-Garfield floor, the New Castle Tigers will oppose the strong Butler hoopers, composed of ex-Butler high players.

The Tigers face one of their toughest opponents of the season. Pafrath, star Butler high forward, will be in the lineup for the visitors.

In a game played Saturday, Tigers girls captured a 13-11 victory over the Mahoning girls.

Keystones Going To Beaver Falls

The Keystone A. C. will go to Beaver Falls Pa., Wednesday to meet the fast St. Marys Lyceum team at the St. Marys floor. The valley team is made up of former high school stars.

All of the Keystone A. C. players are asked by Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto to report at the club at 6 o'clock to make the trip to the valley.

Connie Mack Is Much Impressed

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, March 2.—After taking his first look at the Philadelphia Athletics 1937 squad, Connie Mack liked what he saw today.

"I find the players who have been here a week are in fine condition," he said. "They are further advanced than they ever were in the United States after one week."

K. P. RESERVES TO PLAY

The K. Pulaski Reserves will play the St. Phillips and James five to-night at the K. P. hall at 8 o'clock. All of the K. P. boys are asked to report early. This should be one of the best games of the year.

Final Home Game For Titans Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 2—In their last game of the 1936-37 season on their home floor, the Westminster Titans will try to make it two in a row over Coach Max Hannum's Tech quintet, when the Tartan men come to New Wilmington, Tuesday night, March 2, for a return engagement with the Roarkmen.

The Titans have increased in offensive strength as the season is nearing its end. Grubb, tall Titan guard and chief scoring-threat of the Roarkmen, never quite reached Wes Bennett's immortal "15 points a game" average but he has increased his percentage until he has an almost 12-point average, with 62 field goals and 44 fouls, for a total of 168 points in 15 games. Andy Demo, fast forward from Johnstown, is not far behind, with an almost 10 point average through 58 goals and 26 fouls for a total of 142 points in 15 games.

The chief scoring-menace to visiting teams has developed during the last two games in the form of

Paul Backus, who caged 11 points against Waynesburg and again against George Washington. The elongated center has developed a keen eye for deep side-shots, at which he has grown dangerously accurate. When the opposition centers itself on stopping Grubb, Backus begins tossing them in from the side instead of under the basket. Grubb's favorite scoring spot.

Third in Titan scoring is John Krivosh, guard, with an average of 5 points a game during the season, closely followed by Gilliland with 69 points in 15 games. Miller, playing about half of the game-time has gathered 46 points.

Against the Tech men, Coach Roark will send his usual starting lineup, Gilliland and Demo at forwards; Backus at center and Grubb and Krivosh at guards. With the loss of a player on fouls, it is easy to shift Grubb to the center job and insert Miller at forward and guard.

The Tech freshmen will play the Titan frosh in a curtain-raiser at 7 o'clock, followed by the varsity game at 9:15.

Bethlehem Steel Wage Increase To Affect 65,000 Men

Forty-Hour Week To Become Effective In Plants On March 16 Also

(International News Service)

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 2—Sixty-five thousand men will be affected by Bethlehem Steel Company's announcement that, effective March 16, they will put the forty-hour week into effect and grant their men a ten cents per hour increase in wages.

The plants involved are located in Johnstown, Pa., Lackawanna, N. Y., Sparrows Point, Md., Steelton, Pa., and Bethlehem.

Bethlehem's action was regarded in this great steel center as a decidedly pacific gesture toward labor. It was announced that the new rates on the present basis of operation will increase the annual payroll approximately $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 a year. It follows a $10,000,000 increase granted last November.

The new rates provide for average hourly wages substantially 25 to 30 per cent above the 1929 levels. In establishing the forty-hour week, Bethlehem will bring itself in line to bid on government contracts under the provisions of the Walsh-Healy Act.

Bethlehem announced it had been arranged to modify the present overtime schedule which provides for time and one half for all work after eight hours per day and over six days a week.

The new schedule will provide for time and one half time for all work over eight hours per day and over forty hours a week.

Polish Falcons Play St. Nicks

The Polish Falcons will play the famous St. Nicholas basketball team tonight at the Falcon hall on Miller street. The Falcon Reserves will play the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock, with the First Presbyterian team.

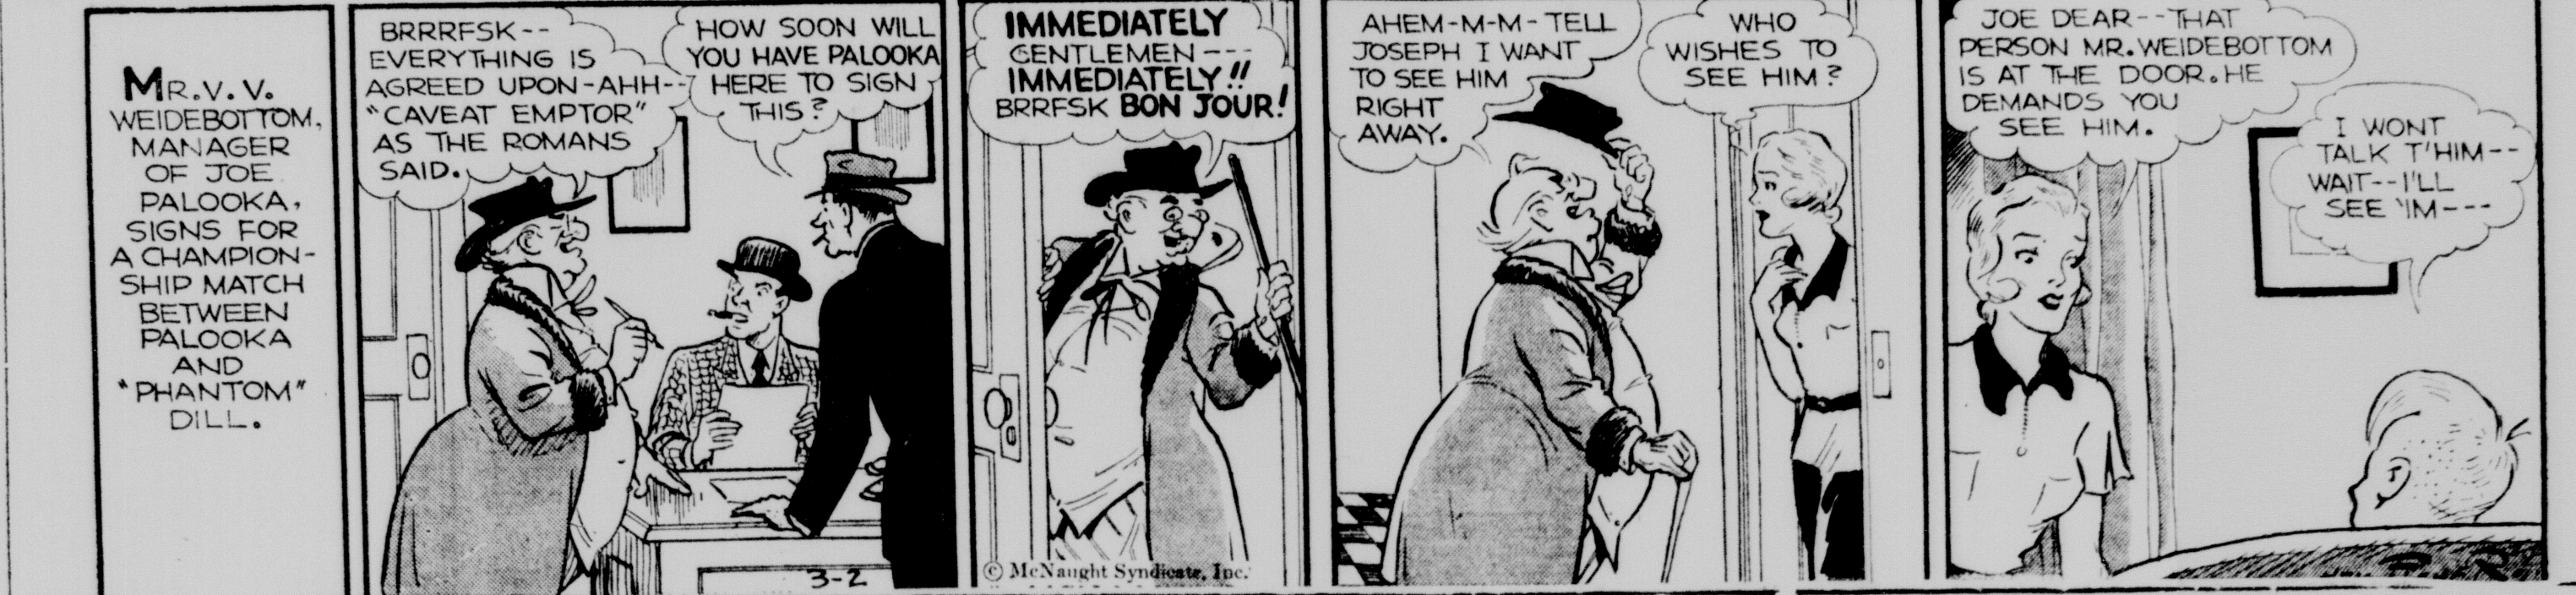

This should be one of the finest attractions of the year at the Falcon hall. Wednesday, the Falcons will play the fast King Club of Youngstown in the second half of a double-header at the Falcon hall.

Few Brownstone Fronts Are Left

Most Old New York Mansions Bear Furnished Room Signs, McIntyre Finds

QUEER PEOPLE FOUND THEREIN

By O. O. McIntyre
NEW YORK, March 2.—There are not many of those dim-lit brownstone fronts left. And the few remaining bear the window card "Furnished Room." To my mind that is the well-nigh perfect title for a play. A play perhaps by George Abbott. With Pauline Lord as the married chateleine. The rooming house was my haven in the formative days of New York. Characters to be found there are rarely seen in any other environment. There are seldom friendly contacts. Everybody remains in a shell. And for the larger number, life has them on the ropes.

The community postoffice, a silver plate on a table in the hall, drew most of us who wrote in eager anticipation. Perhaps a check from a magazine or an order for a Sunday feature. How often we approached with high hopes and left it wondering.

In those days the weekly prices ranged from $2.50 for a top flight and all the way back hall room to the $7 front parlor with the marble mantle. The front parlor couple was always exclusive. They never sat with the rest of us out on the front steps in the evening.

To Women who suffer from Piles

It is no longer necessary to suffer the agony caused by piles. Science has at last developed a modern treatment that gives immediate relief from soreness, itching, burning and bleeding.

ZIRIL (formerly IRIL) Suppositories were first used by doctors who specialize in rectal disorders. They have a five-way action that makes them the ideal treatment for the quick relief of the horrible discomforts. They stop all pain within a few seconds; they check bleeding quickly; they promote healing of broken tissues; they soften and lubricate, making bowel movement easy and painless. No narcotics or harmful drugs.

ZIRIL is also made in the form of an ointment to relieve the itching, burning and bleeding of external or protruding piles.

ZIRIL Suppositories come in two sizes—6 treatments for 50 cents and 12 treatments $1.00 per box. ZIRIL Ointment comes in a 50¢ tube. Sold by all druggists.

Basil Woon is always popping up like a Jack-in-the-box in unexpected places. Floyd Gibbons once passed him plodding along on a dinky crowded bus for the night back country in China. He found his room mate was Woon. Only recently Woon vanished from Hollywood and is now in London with a play he has written called "Simply Terrific," which ought to go places if it lives up to title.

I know a now prosperous and estimable Kansas City business man—O. well it is John T. Kennedy if you insist—who in his earlier years was a drug drummer. One night while lodging in a frame hotel in a prairie town he was scorched by fire. He began to carry a safety rope for a window escape in similar emergencies. That was 30 years ago. Today when he goes traveling to California, New York or Europe, the rope is still in his luggage.

The Welsh rarebit is the most popular after-theatre dish in New York night clubs and cafes. There is a special knack in turning out the rarebit. So much so the chef who rates high in the art is the most highly paid of the specialty cooks. Maurice Chevalier who had a special yen for this dish said that in the entire metropolis he found but four places where it became the dish it should be. And each one was crowded.

Another hard to get dish in Manhattan is of the breakfast variety. This is Tad's favorite fried mush, thinly sliced and flakily done into a golden square. With a spurt of maple syrup and a rashter of crisp bacon this is a daisy in morning delicacies. Brown's old chop house specialized in it for years and among the regular fried mush customers were Nat Goodwin, John Mason and Wilton Lackaye. Sir Forbes Robertson pronounced fried mush the most delectable dish he found over here.

Most cartoonists are facial contortionists. At the drawing board they try unconsciously to twirl their features into the likeness of the character they are portraying. Rube Goldberg's cheek muscles used to get tired before his hand felt crampy. Tad could simulate many of his cartoon folk and so can Billy De Beck. There are those who insist, too, that comic strip artists grow to resemble their brain children. They point to the likeness between George McManus and Dinty Moore and Bud Fisher to Jeff. The type in the Briggs cartoon always being told to "blow" is Briggs grown up. And the hardy bald little man of the Don Herold cartoons is Don himself.

A Ring Lardner enthusiast in Enid, Oklahoma, sends me a copy of a lyrical autograph the humorist author wrote by request in one of his early books. Typically Lardnerian, it read:

Am I spoofing?—No, I mean it.

In Milwaukee, which has a population of approximately 650,000, there was only one murder committed in 1935. In a recent six-month period, local police reported there were only nine holdups.

Trinity Church To Have Cantata Wednesday Night

"Olivet To Calvary" To Be Sung By Senior Choir At Lenten Services

The sacred cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," by J. H. Maunder will be rendered in Trinity Church, tomorrow, Wednesday, at 8 p. m. as a Lenten devotion bringing home to the hearts of all the meaning of Christ's sufferings through the beautiful art of music. It will be sung by the senior choir of the church with Miss Isabel T. Johnson at the organ.

Preceding will be the processional hymn, 149, "O Lamb of God still keep me," a very brief service conducted by the rector, the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, and the offering during the singing of hymn 139, "Just as I am without one plea." The special offering will be given to the fund for a new piano in the Guild room of the church to be used by the choir, the Church School, and for entertainments.

Labor Trouble Results In Loss Of Butler Plant

BUTLER, Pa., March 2.—Unable to settle labor difficulties, which closed the Spaide shirt plant since January 27, R. L. Spaide, president of the company, today announced removal of the factory from Butler. Officials stated the concern will be relocated at Cowan, Tenn., "where a factory has been built for our company."

"This factory is now completed," Spaide announced. "Our machinery is there and is being installed and we expect to have some of our lines in production within the next two weeks."

"To survive competition," the company's statement read, "we must follow the exodus of the cotton garment industry to the South, where production costs are much lower because of the nearness to the source of raw materials."

Transportation costs and increasingly higher taxes in Pennsylvania also were given as additional reasons for the relocation of the plant, which was started here 22 years ago.

Picked Up In Other Papers
Ohio authorities have returned Jim McCann, Homestead steel worker, to Columbus to finish the sentence from which he fled 16 years ago. Mr. McCann's wife and William Mossman, official of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., where McCann is employed, laid the prisoner's record as "a model husband and employee" before Gov. Martin L. Davey's executive secretary in an effort to secure a pardon. Mr. Mossman is of the Greenville Mossman family, a relative of Governor Alfred M. Landon.

Erie and Crawford counties had a snowfall of eight to ten inches the other day. Franklin reported four inches, Greenville seven and Mercer three.

Lillian Spencer, a young girl of Mercer county, was helping her mother milk the cows. While at work she fainted; the cow became frightened and fell upon her. The girl was badly injured about the body and suffered a laceration below one eye when struck by the cow's hoof.

Caught between a small mine car and the side of the workings, Homer McCowin, R. D. 2, Darlington, miner, was painfully injured Saturday. The accident happened in a New Galilee mine where McCowin drives a horse-drawn loading cart. He is in Providence hospital, Beaver Falls, with a fractured right leg and bruises.

Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., of Phillips hall, Butler, has left for Miami, Fla., to join Mrs. Phillips, who has been spending the winter at their home on Hibiscus Island. They plan to return to Butler late in March. He was accompanied south by Benjamin D. Phillips, Sr., of Elm Court, who will visit his sister, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson of New Castle, at her winter home in Orlando.
